Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act Overview

Billions of dollars are expected to come to Utah through the Infrastructure Investments and Jobs Act (IIJA) over the next five years. This is a generational opportunity for Utah to make lasting investments to the infrastructure that will carry us through the next century. Funded programs span from transportation, to energy, water, broadband, public lands, environmental remediation, and resiliency.

The Governor's Office of Planning and Budget (GOPB) will coordinate the state's overall efforts to implement IIJA.
